

Christian Michel

Mr. Michel has over 14 years of experience in economic and real estate consulting. As a Director at the firm, he leads financial feasibility and real estate market analyses, economic and fiscal impact studies, and highest-and-best use assessments. With a background in site selection, corporate real estate consulting, and planning, Mr. Michel understands business expectations and the strategic potential of real estate and development. He has worked on many high-profile brownfield redevelopment projects throughout the Northeast and Mid-Atlantic Regions, determining accurate and realistic market demand conditions and modeling the financial feasibility of redevelopment projects. Mr. Michel holds a Masters in Economic Geography from the University of Heidelberg, Germany, and is expected to graduate with an MBA in Finance from New York University in 2013. Mr. Michel is also Certified Commercial Investment Member (CCIM).
