

Susan Boyle, GEI Consultants (sboyle@geiconsultants.com) – Ms. Boyle is a senior leader of GEI Consultants, Inc.'s brownfield, property transaction, and sustainability practices. Environmental consulting is Ms. Boyle's second career; Sue was, among other titles, Assistant Commissioner in the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection.

Sue manages the NJ Licensed Site Remediation Professionals Association (LSRPA), the Economic Development Association of NJ (EDANJ), the New York City Brownfield Partnership, and the Brownfield Coalition of the Northeast (BCONE). She is one founder of and active program committee member for the Northeast Sustainable Communities Workshop, for which BCONE and the New York City Brownfield Partnership are partnering organizations. Sue is a graduate of Binghamton University (formerly SUNY Binghamton) and holds a MRP degree from Cornell University.

She is Chair Emeritus of the NJ Society of Women Environmental Professionals and currently serves on the Board of the Environmental Business Council.