

BIOGRAPHY OF WILLIAM F. WISSEMAN, P. E.

William F. Wissemann (“Bill”) is Senior Project Engineer for the Newport 300 acre mixed use waterfront mixed use redevelopment project in Jersey City, New Jersey. A 1966 graduate of New York Community College he is a licensed Professional Engineer. In his 26 years working for the Newport Associates Development Company, Mr. Wissemann is fully responsible for all aspects of civil, environmental and transportation engineering, planning and design, obtaining and ensuring compliance with approvals and permits from all levels of government, interfacing with construction and assisting in managing the project. Prior to joining Newport he was a project manager with Vollmer Associates Consulting Engineers in New York where his experience included overseeing civil, structural and railroad engineering including utility, roadway and site work designs, specifications, estimates and construction; project planning including examining and evaluating building systems and sites, budgeting, scheduling and permitting, and; transportation planning and traffic design and construction. Bill is also a Viet Nam veteran.